PRODIGY DIABETES CARE, LLC

DEFENDANT

ORDER

Yesterday, the Court got the attached letters from counsel. Requests for relief should be made by motion on the docket. Construing the letter from Prodigy's lawyer as a motion to extend, the Court denies the request without prejudice. Prodigy may be in default. N_0 4 & 4-1; FED. R. CIV. P. 12(a). But that issue, too, needs fleshing out on a briefed motion.

So Ordered.

RHEA DRUGSTORE, INC. v. PRODIGY DIABETES CARE, LLC

Dear Judge Marshall,

Case No.:

We have just been retained by Prodigy Diabetes Care, LLC in the above-referenced case, and are in the process of obtaining local counsel. In the interim, we are writing to ask for an extension of time to answer or otherwise respond to the Plaintiff's Complaint up to and including Friday, March 20, 2015. We need this additional time to review the Complaint and associated allegations and to obtain local counsel. We have asked Plaintiff's counsel for consent, but have not heard back from them.

Very Truly Yours,

Lawrence A. Baratta, Jr.

Re: Rhea Drugstore, Inc. v. Prodigy Diabetes Care, LLC

No. 4:15-cv-54-DPM

Dear Judge Marshall:

We are in receipt of a letter to the Court dated today, February 23, 2015, from Lawrence A. Baratta, Jr., counsel for Defendant in this matter, seeking an extension to answer or otherwise respond to Plaintiff's Complaint. After receiving the letter, we retrieved from email spam a message in which Mr. Baratta requested Plaintiff's consent to an extension to answer the Complaint. We had not previously seen this message, which arrived in spam on February 20, 2015, at 4:06 p.m.

Plaintiff respectfully objects to Defendant's request for an extension by letter. Defendant is in default, as Defendant was required to answer or respond by February 17, 2015. See R. 4, Affidavit of Service (attached). Accordingly, no extension would be proper. Moreover, to the extent Defendant seeks relief from this Court, it should seek such relief by motion after a reasonable attempt to meet and confer with Plaintiff's counsel.

Sincerely,

Allen Carney
